About the CME:

Good Clinical practice (GCP) is an international ethical and scientific quality standard for designing, conducting, recording, and reporting clinical research involving human participants.

Why GCP needed:

- Mandatory for clinical research
- Essential for thesis and publications
- Ensures participant safety
- Improves research quality and credibility

Objectives:

- To understand the principles of GCP and apply ethical guidelines in research.
- Prepare informed consent documents and maintain essential trial documents.
- To handle protocol deviations, adverse events and understand roles of Investigator and Ethics Committee.
