Brief Summary	The current pandemic of Covid-19 has shaken the entire world. In spite of various scientific researches and technological advancements exact treatment to cure the disease is yet to be discovered. Ayurvedic medicine NOQ 19 is a polyherbal formulation that has immunomodulating and immune enhancing properties. This drug is licensed by Drug licensing authority, Department of AYUSH, Government of Karnataka. The present randomized, double blind, placebo controlled, multi-centric trial is planned to determine the therapeutic efficacy of Ayurvedic medicine NOQ19 in treatment of symptomatic COVID-19 patients along with standard allopathic treatment. Six medical institutes providing Covid 19 care will be involved in conducting this trial. From each center 60 covid positive patients admitted in the hospital in the age group 18-65 years will be recruited and randomized into treatment and control arm. Following randomization 30 of them will be given Ayurvedic medicine NOQ 19 along with standard treatment and other 30 will receive placebo plus standard treatment. The follow up period will be 7 days. Outcome measures that will be assessed are time to become SARS CoV2 RT PCR negative, reduction in symptoms and duration of hospital stay. Apart from this the blood samples will be collected on day 0, day 3, day 5 and day 7 to measure CBC, RBS, KFT, LFT, D Dimer, S Ferritin, IL6, HsCRP, LDH. Chest X ray will be done if indicated.

Sub: Participation by Community Medicine Department in verification of Sub-national claims for 'TB Free' status in India

Dear Sir/Madam,

Greetings from ICMR-NIE!

Government of India has resolved to end Tuberculosis (TB free) in India by 2025. To achieve that goal, the Ministry of Health & Family Welfare, Government of India has developed a sub-national TB free certification process. An important step in the sub-national TB free certification process is validation of claims of reduction in TB incidence at District/State/UT level.

As per the decision by Central TB Division, Govt. of India, National Institute of Epidemiology (NIE), ICMR has been identified as the independent verification agency for Sub-national certification of TB elimination efforts along with Indian Association of Preventive and Social Medicine (IAPSM) and World Health Organization (WHO). This year, TB free claims have been received from 67 districts, 1 state and 2 UTs.

Department of Community Medicine of your esteemed institute has been assigned this validation exercise along with other stakeholders in the district where the Medical College is located or the allotted nearby district (list enclosed). The faculties & PG students have to train field teams, undertake supervision of field work, verify secondary data, conduct qualitative interviews and submit a report. All expenditure will be borne out of the budget provided for this purpose by CTD to IAPSM.

You are requested to kindly consider the period of their engagement in the verification process in the month February & March 2021 as 'on duty'.

Thank you and with regards,

Sincerely,

[Dr. Manoj Murhekar]

URGENT UPDATE

To: Dr Anand Muthiah

Re: Application for WFPI Observership

Dear Dr. Muthiah:

We are writing to update your status. The 1st ranked candidate for this Pediatric Radiology observership is unable to accept because of a family emergency. Since you were the next ranked candidate, we now extend the offer to you to participate in the WFPI Pediatric Radiology Observership program at the Postgraduate Institute of Medical Education and Research (PGIMER), in Chandigarh.

As stated in the original announcement, the Observership was scheduled to begin on March 1, 2020 and extend to May 31, 2020. Given the shortness of time, we are happy to work with you to adjust those dates.

Your contact to make local arrangements at PGIMER is Prof. Kushaljit Singh Sodhi, MD, PhD, MAMS, FICR, Professor, Department of Radiodiagnosis. Professor Sodhi can be reached at his email (sodhiks@gmail.com) and we have copied him on this letter. In meantime, our understanding is that he intends to reach out to you directly. Once we have confirmation, our staff will follow-up with you to make the arrangements to transfer the award funds during the first week of your Observership.

I am happy to report that due to generous support from the William Shiels Memorial Foundation at Nationwide Children's Hospital in Columbus, Ohio, US, this Observership is now named The WFPI - Shiels Pediatric Radiology Observership. To learn more about Dr. William Shiels, visit the Observership web-page which had been updated to include this information.

On behalf of the World Federation of Pediatric Imaging Executive Council, and the members of our constituent Societies, I again extend congratulations to you on your success. We look forward to hearing from you.

DERMATOLOGY PRACTICAL & CONCEPTUAL

Latest Issue · November 2019
Highlights from the Editor-in-Chief

The double open-access DPC journal is the IDS' official journal and we have recently introduced the tradition of having our Editor-in-Chief, Prof. Giuseppe Argenziano, provide our members with a brief and critical introduction to the latest issue, which was published in October 2019.

We are happy to highlight some very interesting papers appearing in our latest issue, which contains quite a nice number of review papers, research articles and beautiful letters concerning special cases observed by our editors and IDS members.

First, we have a beautiful article written by the Bologna group which is very passionate about hair disorders. They have compiled an excellent study on alopecia areata incognita and diffuse alopecia areata showing how dermoscopy can be helpful in their differentiation, since distinguishing them clinically can be difficult.

The second paper we would like to mention is an observational study on the dermoscopic and histopathological correlation of eccrine poroma. As you already know, eccrine poroma is a great simulator of many tumors, so by getting to know more about these tumors we will become more skilled in the diagnosis of these benign tumors.

The third paper is an amazing review paper by Sidharth Sonthalia et al. with an update on the expanding indications and future prospects of dermoscopy. The paper highlights the application of dermoscopy in the fields of general dermatology, inflammatory diseases, infectious diseases and more. So, we can proudly say that the dermoscope has truly become the dermatologist's stethoscope.

Finally, we would also like to recommend another review article called "Sun exposure: beyond the risks". It speaks of the positive effects of sun exposure on a variety of health conditions. Sun exposure has proven to be beneficial for lymphomas and other cancers (e.g. pancreatic, prostatic, colorectal and breast cancer), arterial hypertension and many more other diseases. The paper concludes that moderation in terms of sun exposure should be recommended instead of strict and total avoidance.

For more information, follow us on our social media pages (Facebook and Twitter) where you will be informed on a regular basis! Until the next issue, we hope you will enjoy our latest one!

Warm regards from the DPC team,
